THE NEW ZEALAND TRADE.

Suggestions Made by the Auckland Board of Trade.

Mr. J. J. Young, secretary to the Auckland Board of Trade has written the following letter to the Toronto Board of Trade:

SIR,—I have the honor, by the direction of the Council, to acknowledge receipt of yours of the 11th April and documents, and to say that similar reports have been received from Quebec and Montreal, re-opening up a trade with this country. All these communications have received the earnest attention of the Council. The public have also been notified by paragraphs in our daily papers and the subject introduced to the notice of leading merchants, with the combined result that to open up communication between the two countries the following things are essential:—

First, Rapid and cheap communication; this can be obtained if your proposed line of steamers from Vancouver will make this a port of call upon inward and outward departure, making Sydney the terminus. This would tap the whole of the Australian colonies, and as this port is immediately in the line of route, no difficulty should be experienced in carrying this out, this being the route adopted by the San Francisco line of steamers.

Second, That the manufacturers and merchants of your city should each send sample of goods that can be utilised here, making lowest prices; these would be received by a house here (under the auspices of the Chamber) and brought permanently before the public. At present no one would venture to purchase outright, and all goods so consigned should be for sale and returns.

Under separate cover you will receive copies of newspapers bearing upon the subject, also a return showing the principal articles of import from America for the year 1885. From these you will be able to glean what class of goods you have that would suit the market. A plan of our harbor, copy of by-laws of Harbor Board, and last year's balance sheet are also enclosed. These will enable you to judge of the rapid strides this port is making and its superior facilities for shipping.

Our exports that could be utilized by you comprise principally Kauri Gum for making varnish of which we exported last year 5595 tons of the value of £294,962, a great portion of which was sent to America—our exports from Auckland to the east coast of America in 1886-7 amounted to £101,584, also a large quantity of wool.

I am also instructed to assure your council that this matter will not be lost sight of, and that any aid or assistance in furtherance of the above objects will be freely given, so far as is compatible with the duties of this chamber; and the council trust that in the near future a reciprocal and beneficial trade communication will be the result.

ARE WE MORAL?

A Calgary Paper Tackles the Grave Question.

The Calgary Tribune quotes from our columns the remarks of Mayor Fell in reply to the observations of Rev. Messrs. Fraser and Starr on the state of morality in Victoria, and adds:

"It was, indeed, horrible that the rev. gentlemen should have made such a mistake. Yet in a town of 9000 people, such as Victoria, with a license list of 66, it must be allowed that they are fairly well off with conveniences for supplying the fluid that inebriates and makes a fellow cheer. This is an average of one place of liquid refreshment for every 150 of the population. Of course, we don't profess to be able to judge of the capacity of these Victorian bibblers, because we only know of it by hearsay, but even allowing that they are, as report says, the heartiest partakers in the world, still one shop to 150 should, with nimble and experienced attendants, be ample—quite ample.

"But, as to the matter of morality, it may be questioned whether the number of licenses really has anything to do with it. In Regina, N. W. T., for instance, there is not a single license in existence, and still, if we are to believe what the local paper says, the leading citizens there are terrors to get drunk. They just start in and make things howl, and do themselves proud. The last issue of the Regina Leader to hand says: "A public journal would not be serving the interests of morality and the public if it allowed the disgraceful—we can give it no milder term—action of several well known characters, calling themselves leading citizens, who early on Sunday morning last, after the brutish excesses of a drunken orgie, paraded our principal streets frantically yelling like wolves and otherwise making night hideous. It is not at all surprising that the thought of such an outrage on Christianity should have moved a good and sincere member of one of our churches to stand up before the congregation and, with tears of regret and pity trickling down his cheeks, tell them that he was grieved to find the "atmosphere of a Sunday morning darkened by the oaths of drunken men."

"Think of that, ye Victorians! And conceive, also, the wild comicality of the situation by imagining the writer of the above severe comment, and the sincere Christian with the tears of pity a-trickling down his cheeks, and the leading spirit in the glorious orgie, being one and the same person! Regina, we assure you, without licenses at all, is quite equal to a prank of this kind, and we respectfully demur, therefore, against the fact of there being one grogshop to every 150 men, women and children in Victoria, being accepted as prima facie evidence of a low condition of morals. It is certainly indicative of the progress of human swillmanship, but of immorality—never! The Mayor is right; a bridle should be put on the preachers' tongues.

Give Them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

ON TO CAPE SCOTT—THE CITY WATER WORKS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—I have read from time to time with much interest letters which have appeared in a local contemporary over the signature of "J. S. H.," and which have had in view the opening up for trade and settlement the northerly portion of Vancouver Island by a railway from Wellington to Cape Scott. To open up the northeast portion of this Island should be the aim and ambition of the government of British Columbia for the time being; and if ministers would give important subjects of this nature, upon which the future of the province so much depends, a share of their attention it would be much more becoming the responsible office they hold, and of much more interest to the public than for instance their opinion of the merits of male or female teachers, and in other ways trying to make political capital out of school meetings.

That there is a large extent of flat country lying to the north of Comox unexplored I think is generally admitted. It is not to be supposed that this land is all unfit for settlement, but on the contrary, much of it must be well suited for agriculture and grazing. The land is known to carry excellent timber and much could be realized by industrious settlers from the sale of logs to sawmill owners.

It is presumed also that coal and other minerals exist in that part of the island, which ought to be an attraction for intending settlers. All along the east coast of the island navigation is safe and pleasant, but from Cape Mudge to the southward it is exceptionally fine, being completely land-locked and sheltered. When one considers how much nature has done in establishing such a highway to and from the most distant part of Vancouver Island, the question naturally arises, why give away our valuable lands for a railway that is not wanted, and which to build would take away the only inducement for settlers to go there, viz., the lands to settle upon. "J. S. H." proposes to pay for building a railway to run parallel to this waterway by a grant of land. With due submission, therefore, I would say, do not aliminate our Crown lands to build a railway to Cape Scott, but rather let the Goverment take up the question of the thorough exploration of Vancouver Island—more especially the portion under discussion; say from Comox to the north. Where districts are found suitable for settlement let wagon roads be run from salt-water back to the mountains or as far back as might be found necessary. A steamer could call at the end of the rounds once a week, or oftener if necessary, for the purpose of the settlers. In ten years as many thousand people might find homes in the northeast portion of the Island. I see no good reason why there should not be to the north of Comox as large, or larger, settlements than Comox, Cowichan, Saanich or Cedar Hill. If not what use is there for the railway at all.

In regard to what J. S. H. says about Elk Lake water, I cannot agree. Analysis has proved the city water to be of excellent quality—it is pleasant to the taste, useful in the lavatory and for general household purposes. If not properly filtered, the water is scarcely to blame for that. Do not go to Goldstream for water. Give our present supply a fair chance and that, in my opinion, can best be done by carrying out what is known as Hendry's Scheme. G. L.

THE RECORD BROKEN.

The Fastest Time Made in Track-Laying.

Messrs. Sheppard & Winston, the great railroad builders of St. Paul, are far surpassing even their own unrivaled record in the rapidity with which they are pushing the Montana extension of the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba railroad. On Saturday last 7.2 miles of main track were laid, being the largest amount ever laid on any railroad in one day and from one end. In the rapid construction of the C. P. R. the highest record for one day was 6.38 miles. The day's work accomplished last Saturday required the transportation, delivery at end of track and unloading of nearly two hundred cars of material and supplies. This was done without a moment's delay to the tracklaying. The track has just entered the valley of Milk river, and the conditions for rapid work are more favorable than before. It is confidently stated that the record given above will be eclipsed in the near future.

Can It Be True?

An Ottawa dispatch of the 22nd inst., says: Chief McVeitty, of the police force, stated to-day that the condition of affairs in that city are similar to that exposed in London by the Pall Mall Gazette two years ago, professional men, civil tradesmen and all other people being implicated. Young girls, whose ages range from 12 to 16 years, are being trafficked in as so many cattle—their virtue bartered away, in many instances, to the highest bidder. The small towns and cities of the province are regularly visited by procuresses who hold out glittering inducements to the children of the poor. A life of idleness and luxury is pictured out to them. In some cases parents have been approached, and for money consideration have parted with their daughters—consigned them to a life of prostitution and shame. In other cases the girls have been induced to leave their homes without the knowledge of their parents; but such instances are rare, as an investigation of their whereabouts is liable to expose the criminals. It is claimed that many prominent men and officials of the government are implicated.

A Pacific Cable.

At a meeting of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday the following resolution was proposed and passed relative to a Pacific Ocean cable: Whereas, The political and commercial relations of the United States with the Hawaiian Islands, the South Pacific Islands and Australia are rapidly increasing; and whereas, the laying of a telegraphic cable on this ocean route is accompanied with grave financial and scientific questions which will prevent the use of exclusively private capital therein; therefore be it resolved, that the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco forward to the coming Congress a memorial, to be approved by the Board of Trustees, earnestly petitioning our government to offer such inducements that capital may be attracted to this great enterprise, to the commercial and political advantage of the whole country.

SPRINGS ON FIRE.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 25.—A dispatch from Nizhnee, Novorgorod, says the large Naptha Spring store house, containing one million poods, at Balachna, is on fire and the flames have spread to structures enclosing the other spring.

A VOLCANO.

MALTA, July 25.—A violent volcano occurred on the Island of Malta, off the coast of Algeria. Streams of lava issues from the crater and the glare of the flames emitted are visible for fifty miles.

THE THISTLE.

GLASGOW, July 25.—The yacht Thistle sailed for New York to-day. A gale was blowing when she took her departure. She proceeded under storm sails. The crew numbered twenty-one men. Her owner and designer will sail from Liverpool for New York on the steamer City of Rome during the latter part of August.

O'BRIEN'S OPINION.

LONDON, July 24.—An interview was held to day with Wm. O'Brien, member of parliament and Editor of the United Ireland on the subject of the Irish Land bill. He said the first effect of the measure would be to bankrupt and destroy the majority of the landlords in Ireland, and the second effect would be to destroy the government which had purchased office with concessions destructive to the Conservative party. After a bitter struggle of six months he said the ministry had adopted Parnell's bill, and it was the plan of campaign that had forced them to pursue the present course.

A DUEL.

PARIS, July 25.—M. Cassagnac published a flat denial of the story that eighty-four generals proposed a coup d'etat to General Boulanger, and challenged La France to publish their names. La France asked General Ferron's permission to publish the names. After denying the story M. Cassagnac printed an article headed: "Coward, liar, etc." The result is M. Laur admitting himself to be the author of the original letters referring to the matter, has challenged M. Cassagnac to fight a duel. La Justice considers the letters of too small a consequence to be worth any bother and expresses the opinion that too great liberties have been taken in twisting the words uttered by General Boulanger.

THE REVIEW.

LONDON, July 23.—The review was in every respect a great success. The Queen's yacht steamed into Solent at 3:12 p. m. Her Majesty stood on the bridge and was perceptible to all. The yacht first passed through the line of foreign ships and then proceeded up and down between the various British squadrons. The royal yacht Osborne, with the Prince and Princess of Wales on board, followed the Queen's yacht all the way. The detour occupied three hours, and there was no cessation of enthusiasm during the entire period.

AMERICAN NEWS.

MORE SEIZURES.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 25.—A telegram from the U. S. Consul at Carleton and Souris, Prince Edward Island, states that the seines and boats with the American schrs. Colonel J. H. Francis and Argonaut were seized yesterday off the east point of Prince Edward Island by the Dominion Cutter Critic. It appears that the vessel's boats were close in shore when the cutter appeared, with the seines set in the water. The vessels cleared out, but before the boats could escape they were seized. There was only one man left on the vessel and it is thought she will be seized before getting home, as they will have to put in for assistance.

A GREAT FIZZLE.

PULLMAN, Ill., July 23.—Probably the greatest fizzle of a boat race ever rowed in the West was rowed here this afternoon, in which Edward Hanlan nominally defeated Jacob Gaudaur. It had been announced that the contest would be for the championship of America and $1,000, and to each of the participants a share of the receipts at the gate. In addition it was expected that the result would definitely decide whether Hanlan, whom many people believe the world's greatest oarsman, had virtually closed his career. The race settled nothing, and was in no particular a success, not even in the gate receipts. About 1200 people were present instead of the 7000 or 10,000 expected. They rowed in the dark and watching of any kind was impossible. When Hanlan finished in front of the grand stand, Gaudaur was a quarter of a mile away, out in the middle of the lake. No one could see him and rumors of all kinds were prevalent, some believing that he had been capsized, while others thought he had given up and had been taken aboard the press boat.

MARINE.

The S. S. Sardonyx, Capt. Mayers, leaves to-night to meet the steamer Port Augusta, due to-morrow at Vancouver from Yokohama, in lake passengers and freight to Portland. She then returns from Portland with passengers and freight—chiefly flour—for shipment to the Orient per Port Augusta.

The Afghan boundary question has been settled. Russia receives territory between the Kusk and Murghab rivers, accepting in return the English frontier line on Oxus river, renouncing claims to districts to which she would have been entitled according to the terms of the arrangement of "83." The protocols of the agreement will be exchanged at a formal meeting on Thursday or Friday.

The building occupied by the Gooch Manufacturing Co., the Wrigley Paper Box Co., and the White Star Laundry, Cincinnati, was burned on the 21st. They were all got out in safety, but many narrowly escaped a horrible death. The loss is two hundred thousand dollars.

English Election News.

In the parliamentary election at Brixton, Lambeth, London, the Marquis of Carmarthen, Con., received 5307 votes and Mr. James Hill, Lib., 2569. At last year's election the numbers were 3300 Tory, and 1886 Liberal, so that the Tories have gained seven votes and the Liberals 683 in twelve months.

At the election in Hornsey, Middlesex, Mr. Stevens, Tory, got 4496 votes and Mr. Bollomly, Liberal, 2488. At the last election no Liberal candidate was in the field.

At Glasgow, Bridgeton division, owing to the resignation of Mr. F. R. Repell, editor of the Liverpool Daily Post, a vaney occurs to which the utmost interest is attached for the Gladstonian candidate is Sir George Otto Trevelyan and his opponent is Mr. Evelyn Ashley, brother of the Earl of Shaftesbury. Mr. Rupell was in "cabinet rank" as a journalist.

A Grand Resort.

Supt. Whyte, of the C. P. R., states that the C. P. R. hotel at Banff is approaching completion and will be ready for guests early in August. He believes when all the public improvements now being carried on by the government are completed that the Canadian National Park will be the grandest public resort on the American continent—if not in the world. He says that the place must be seen to be appreciated, for its wonderful beauty is beyond the power of human power to describe. The hotel will be lighted with electricity and will be fitted up with water works and all other such modern conveniences. There is a large number of people at the springs at present, the sanitarium and the local hotels being crowded with guests. Among the visitors are several titled people from Great Britain and also many noted people from Japan, San Francisco, the eastern States and Canada. Mr. Whyte is of the opinion that within the next ten years Banff will be the best patronized health and summer resort in the western hemisphere.

A Chinese Wedding.

At 10 a. m. to-day the Rev. Donald Fraser, M. A., united in the bonds of holy matrimony Lu Lon, a prominent Chinese merchant in this city, and Ah Kin, a well known Chinese beauty. Lu Lon was on his way to Portland with his wife, whom he had married after the Chinese fashion. Friends advised them to be married like Christians in order to make their adjustment to the Sticks easier. The advice was taken, and as above and to-day to the surprise of Joe Phillips, who is an object of ridicule for the ridiculous on John for marrying [illegible] Ching as Lung Ang [illegible] They will [illegible] the United States [illegible] the Chinese [illegible] office. WHY SOME PROVINCIAL TREASURIES ARE EMPTY.

The Toronto Mail discusses the financial basis of the several provinces, and shows very conclusively that owing to the lack of a municipal system of government, the smaller provinces have impoverished themselves in contributing to the expenses of purely local works, and are now compelled to apply to the central government for "better terms." Ontario is always pointed to as the premier province of the Dominion, and as the only state in the Confederation that can pay its own way: Quebec has been steadily falling behind for years, the difference between its expenses and receipts continually augmenting. Prince Edward Island has applied for "better terms" and has received an increase in its subsidy of $20,000. Nova Scotia cannot make ends meet, and New Brunswick is not in any better position. The financial standing of British Columbia is well known, and will not need to be restated. Every person who takes an interest in our affairs is aware that under the government of the party now in power there is an annual deficit of several hundred thousand dollars, and a loan of one million dollars had to be negotiated in England during the present year to pay off current liabilities and meet the expenses of government for another year. Our contemporary points out the reason for the rich and prosperous condition of Ontario and apparent impecuniosity of the other provinces. In Ontario the people tax themselves under their splendid municipal system for all local purposes, whereas in British Columbia, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces the revenues of the state are diverted to such purposes as building roads, making bridges, and erecting school houses, court houses, gaols, &c. In the year 1883, the municipalities of Ontario, raised by direct taxation, and expended for local improvements, the large sum of $7,088,435, or $4.53 per head of the population. In Quebec there is no local taxation outside of the towns, and the government builds the roads, maintains the schools, &c. In the other provinces named the legislatures take the place of the municipal councils. "The only difference between the the Nova Scotia and New Brunswick systems as regards road and bridge building is that in the one province the money for the work is granted from the Provincial treasury to the counties, the councils of which can lay it out as they please; while in the other province the money is placed in the hands of commissioners to expend. But the principle is the same. The road and bridge expenditure comes out of the provincial grant, while in Ontario it comes, not from the provincial chest, but from the people in the shape of direct taxation. Here, in brief, is the explanation of the difference between the position of Ontario and that of the three provinces, the finances of which their respective Premiers propose to improve."

Our contemporary does not mention British Columbia, the legislature of which is pragically a municipal council; nor does it state how much, if any, direct taxes are paid by the people of the other provinces. In British Columbia, the government pays for everything outside of the three cities and half dozen rural municipalities and for not a little as well within the bounds of these corporations. The public money vested in the government is by this means made a huge corruption fund, which is used without scruple to purchase sufficient votes to keep the bribers in power, and the distribution is made with regard solely to the political sentiment of the district as expressed at the preceding election. But in British Columbia there is direct taxation, and besides the Provincial revenue tax of three dollars per (male) head, and the trade license tax, there are real and personal property taxes paid directly to the government. We are strongly in favor of the municipal system of Ontario, which has been successfully adopted on a small scale here, but its extension to the whole Province is, of course impossible. Ours is a Province of magnificent distances, with populous settlements only at irregular and distant intervals. Government must, for many years to come, continue to furnish work in the outlying districts; but the extension of the municipal system ought to take place contemporaneous with the growth in population of the province. So long as a state, or a community, is spoon-fed, it will never be self-reliant and can never be progressive or wealthy.

According to a telegram the banquet to Mr. Daly, M.P., at Brandon was one of the most successful political and social events ever known in the history of Manitoba. Both Conservatives and Reformers took part. Mr. Daly said the Red River Valley road was the outcome of a few political agitators in Winnipeg who wanted to rule the province. He also said Mr. Norquay should have resigned before passing the bill.

DOMINION LANDS.

Whilst on his way back to Ottawa Mr. A. M. Burgess, deputy minister of the interior, was interviewed at Winnipeg by the Call. To that journal in reference to the Sumas reclamation scheme he is reported to have stated that as it was a matter of Government policy rather than departmental administration, the discussion was purely a preliminary one and intended more to pave the way, if possible, to some arrangement, when Hon. Mr. White reaches Victoria. In regard to the minerals within the railway belt on the mainland, the matter is now before the courts. It has been submitted to the Supreme Court by the mutual consent of the Dominion and British Columbia Governments. Mr. Justice Fournier has already delivered judgment in the Court of Exchequer, pro forma, in favor of the claim of the Dominion Government. The Supreme Court, however, has not yet pronounced judgment.

Some St. John capitalists have organized a company to be called the Canadian Atlantic Steamship Company, and New York capitalists are to be enlisted to make the enterprise a success. This company has tendered for the Atlantic mail service under the proposed contract with the Dominion Government, making St. John and Halifax the terminal points in winter, and it is stated that this tender is the only one covering both of these ports.

Duncan McIntyre, of Montreal, has been nominated by the Reformers of South Renfrew as their candidate. Mr. McIntyre was a few years ago one of the leading members of the C. P. R. syndicate, and was at one time a resident of the constituency, where he carried on mercantile business. South Renfrew is very much divided on political, temperance and personal questions, but Mr. McIntyre would probably succeed in retaining it for the Liberal party. The name of Timothy Warren Anglin was mentioned as a Liberal candidate previous to the convention, but he is an entire stranger in the district and failed to secure a nomination.

The Dominion Government continues to disallow Manitoba acts. The act passed at the last session of that legislature to amend the law amendments act and prevent injunctions has been slaughtered. The opinion prevails among the law officers of the crown that disallowance of the Red River Valley railway bill prevents the legitimate use of the one million dollars voted by the Manitoba Government for the construction of the road, and any other use that the Government might put it to would be misappropriation. The Dominion Government authorities have not yet decided upon the course of action regarding the railway companies who have obtained charters to build in the forbidden territory.

Imitation "American" Girls.

To return to the French modern young girl, I have heard many a one say to me: "I am a real American!" And being real Americans, these girls did and said very extraordinary things. They talked loud and fast, and touched on very odd topics. Whether, unknown to their careful mothers, they had read forbidden books, or whether imprudent brothers had initiated them into the mysteries of Paris life, I know not; but certainly those innocent maidens knew, or imagined they knew, many singular things. And they fancied they imitated our American girls! With all the defects I have noted, there is one thing which can be said for our girls: they are singularly, charmingly, extraordinarily pure minded; they see without seeing; they hear without understanding, all thing, which it is better for them not to see or understand. And that is what no French moralist, however intelligent he may be, can or will ever understand.—Paris Cor. Kansas City Journal.

"Sweet Twenty-Seven."

The present age will be curiously marked in history as a period when dress and beauty came prominently to the front. The literature of dress during the last ten years, if collected, would form an imposing collection. The beauty craze has revolutionized society. Among its consequences may be noted the fact that girls have gone out of fashion. Twenty-seven is the correct age just now. "Sweet seventeen" is hopelessly demodee. The result is a vast increase in the amount of hypocrisy practiced in society. No girl ever wanted to step at 17, even when it was most in favor. But every woman now remains 27 until even her own familiar looking glass begins to speak in the odious language of perfect candor.—Chicago Tribune.

The Woman Who Laughs.

For a good, every day household angel give us the woman who laughs. Her biscuits may not be always just right, and she may occasionally burn her bread and forget to replace dislocated buttons, but for solid comfort all day and every day she is a very paragon. Home is not a battlefield, nor the one long unending row. The trick of always seeing the bright side, or, if the matter has no bright side, of shining up the dark one, is a very important faculty; one of the things no woman should be without. We are not all born with the sunshine in our hearts, as the Irish prettily phrase it, but we can cultivate a cheerful sense of humor if we only try.—Rural New Yorker.

Woman's Sphere.

For warmth of passion, intensity of feeling and an analysis of the subtle harmonies and discords of our complex human nature, we must study the work done by a woman's hand. To men we have science and philosophy, but women reign supreme in the world of imagination. Men are lords of intellect and knowledge; but for the delineation of feeling and sentiment, of grace and tenderness, the heroic devotion and sublime self sacrifice, which is the true feminine instinct, no pen can equal that of a gifted woman, with her eyes of light, her soul of flame and her lips touched with the seraph's fire.—Lady Wilde in London Queen.

A Higher Duty Still.

The divorce laws in all countries make the grounds of separation personal between husband and wife, and the question of duty is held to lie solely with these two. Whereas, for both, and beyond both, is a higher duty still—that which they and society owe to the innocents creatures whom marriage has brought into the world, who did not ask to be born, and yet must support existence, tainted by the sins and darkened by the sufferings of parents who primarily never thought of them at all.—Contemporary Review.

THE STORY OF A MINE.

BY BRET HARTE.

(Copyrighted, 1898, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangements with them.)

"I'll venture to say, however, that there's nothing in the bag that you lost that need give you a moment's uneasiness. It's only your usual or fool who carries with him that which makes him his own detective."

"I had a friend," continued Harlowe, "a clever fellow enough, but who was so foolish as to seriously complicate himself with a woman. He was himself the soul of honor, and at the beginning of their correspondence he proposed that they should each return the other's letters with their answer. They did so for years, but it cost him ten thousand dollars and no end of trouble after all."

"Why?" asked Thatcher simply.

"Because he was such an egotistical ass as to keep the letter proposing it, which she had duly returned among his papers as a sentimental relic. Of course somebody eventually found it."

"Good night," said Thatcher, rising abruptly. "If I stayed here much longer I should begin to disbelieve my own mother."

"I have known of such hereditary traits," returned Harlowe with a laugh. "But come, you must not go without the champagne." He led the way to the adjacent room, which proved to be only the ante-chamber of another, on the threshold of which Thatcher stopped with genuine surprise. It was an elegantly furnished library.

"Sylvester! Why was I never here before?"

"Because you came as a client; to-night you are my guest. All who enter here leave their business, with their hats, in the hall. Look; there isn't a law book on those shelves; that table never was defaced by a title deed or parchment. You look puzzled? Well, it was a whim of mine to put my residence and my workshop under the same roof, yet so distinct that they would never interfere with each other. You know the house is my mother's, but I live here in Washington, my mother and sister have taken her up, and have been doing the social thing."

"How long since?" asked Thatcher.

"Oh, not long. The day she telegraphed you she came here to know what she could do for us, and when I said nothing could be done except to keep congress off, why she went and did it. For she, and she alone, got that speech out of the senator. But," he added, a little mischievously, "you seem to know very little about her?"

"No—I—that is—I've been very busy lately," returned Thatcher, staring at the picture. "Does she come here often?"

"Yes, lately, quite often; she was here this evening with mother; was here, I think, when you came."

Thatcher looked intently at Harlowe. But that gentleman's face betrayed no confusion. Thatcher refilled his glass a little awkwardly, tossed off the liquor at a draught, and rose to his feet.

"Come, old fellow, you're not going now. I shan't permit it," said Harlowe, laying his hand kindly on his client's shoulder. "You're out of sorts. Stay here with me to-night. Our accommodations are not large, but are classic. I can bestow you comfortably until morning. Wait here a moment, while I give the necessary orders."

Thatcher was not sorry to be left alone. In the last half hour he had become convinced that his love for Carmen de Haro had been in some way most unfeelingly abused. While he was hard at work in California, she was being introduced in Washington society by parties with eligible brothers, who bought her paintings. It is a relief to the truly jealous mind to indulge in plurals. Thatcher liked to think that she was already beset by hundreds of brothers.

He still kept staring at the picture. By and by it faded away in part, and in a very vivid reverie he saw the misty, moonlight walk down the dark, and he had once taken with her canoe. He saw refilled the canvas with its magic, arranging the ruined furnace; the dark, overhanging masses of rock; the trembling intermingling of foliage; and, above all, the flash of dark eyes under a mantilla at his shoulder. What a fool he had been! Had he not really been jealous and stupid as this was? Contrast lying here like a log! And she had loved him once! What a fool she must have thought him this evening! What a snob she must think him now!

He was startled by a slight rustling behind him, and turned to see Carmen de Haro standing in the portiere. Flushed and lightly trembling, she looked more beautiful than ever. Hopes made all East and West twins.

—The Vancouver city loan of $150,000, which was placed in the hands of the Bank of British Columbia to float on the English market has all been taken up, leaving the city clear of all commissioners, charges and exchange the handsome sum of 98 cents on the dollar or somewhere in the neighborhood of $145,000 which is an extraordinarily good showing for the bonds of so young a city.

—A correspondent writing THE TIMES from Anthracite says that extensive preparations are being made for the immediate output of a large quantity of coal, the coal company having at last closed a satisfactory arrangement with the C. P. R. for shipping to the coast and the east. The first order to be filled is for San Francisco is a contract for 1000 tons.

Illecillewaet Silver.

The Isabella mine is turning out wonderfully well. They have struck native silver in a new drift, and they brought down eleven jack-loads, which is so rich that they will not let any person into the mill to see it without a pass, for fear of having it carried off. Some of the other prospects, also, are turning out well.

Come and see. John Wieland's celebrated Philadelphia Lager Beer, 5 cents per glass. Free lunch and lunches to order. *

Tony Cigars.

Lawlessness Rampant.

The mining boom in the Illecillewaet has brought with it the usual batch of undesirable characters, and people there are experiencing rather rough times. Already five saloons are in full blast, gambling halls and shebangs of all kinds are being established all along the line of railway, wherever a flat piece of ground can be met with on which to erect a structure. No officers of the law are on the spot; consequently the perpetration of all classes of crime is frequent. What action does our government intend to take in the matter, is the question asked by interested citizens?

Black and Tan Cigars.

A Useful Work.

The want of a reliable guide-book along the line of the C. P. R. has been frequently referred to by THE TIMES. That want is now supplied; the Canadian Pacific Railway have just published a book called "Summer Tours." It tells the public how to reach the seaside, the Upper Lakes, Northwest and Pacific Coast, and of points of interest nearer hand, and describes some of the sights to be seen on the way. The cost of the trips are also detailed. The book is handsomely got up, is well illustrated, and has maps for reference. A perusal is recommended by those proposing to take a holiday. We presume that copies of this interesting work will be supplied to agents of that company "all along the line." The agents here will then be in a position to hand these to the traveling public on this coast.

Gladstone Cigars.

In Mourning.

The Roman Catholic pro-Cathedral presented a sad and imposing spectacle on Sunday morning. The main doorway on the outside and throughout the inside the Cathedral was draped in mourning. The ladies belonging to the societies connected with the church wore mourning, and members of St. Joseph's Society wore badges of crape. At the close of the instruction, the Rev. Father Verbeke referred to the much respected prelate, whose decease is felt by all classes and creeds. Father Verbeke's voice was choked with emotion, whilst tears filled the eyes of every member in the large congregation. The organ was hushed and a feeling of sadness pervaded the congregation during the service. The many tokens of respect shown by the congregation indicated the respect and love in which Archbishop Seghers was held by his flock in this city.

CASSIAR NEWS.

Latest About the Mines—A Whisky Seller Punished, &c.

There is but little news to write about from the mines. The "Marquis of Lorne" on Dease, has been paying very well and bids fair to continue. The Chinamen are just getting at work, but no one knows what they are making. On Thibarts they are just commencing to wash, with what results will be known later. The Mosquito Creek Prospecting Co. have abandoned their work after having spent about two years hard work, not that they have lost faith in the richness of the creek could its deep channel be properly explored, as it undoubtedly will be some day. From the McDame section there is also but little news. Quartz Creek seems to be looking up in prospects and bids fair to open out again as good as ever.

The Chinaman that was suspected of killing and cremating his partner last winter has gone crazy and is or was in confinement by the Government Agent, Mr. Metcalf, but as that official has been suspended and the government left without a representative at that place he will have to be liberated.

George Sansbury and Lamontain started for the head of Muddy, where so much interest has centred, about the middle of April, and Dan McDonald and Geo. Thompson started for same section fore part of June. The result of their prospecting is looked forward to with a good deal of interest.

Quite an excitement was kicked up here yesterday by the arrival of Mr. Giffin, from Telegraph Creek, with a prominent merchant (R. Highland) of that place under arrest for selling the ardent to Siwashes. The case was immediately called on and disposed of by our stipendiary magistrate, J. L. Crimp, Esq., and Robert Wilson, Esq., J. P. The arrest was on two charges, both of which were substantially proved, and the culprit fined $150 and costs for each offence, amounting in the aggregate to about $400 or six months imprisonment with hard labor. The sentence was considered a very mild one, considering the amount of hell broth that the guilty party had furnished the simple savage; but I presume the fine in this case was more for the crime of swindling than selling liquor, as the two bottles produced and proved to have been the identical ones furnished the poor redskin, and for which he paid $2.50 each, would barely intoxicate one person if it was all consumed within half an hour. Too much praise cannot be awarded Mr. Giffin, the constable and government agent at Telegraph Creek for his determined and finally successful effort to break up their nefarious practice. Could the government have given us his services one more year the thing would have been effectually crushed. In following this thing up as Mr. Giffin has, in his midnight vigil with the thermometer at 50 below zero, miles from house or camp fire, at times watching for an hour in one spot not daring to move or slap his hands for a little circulation, he has seriously impaired in health. In truth, nothing less than an iron man in body as well as nerve could have withstood the hardships that he went through. His transfer to another field we hope may prove of benefit to himself. He leaves Cassiar with the good wishes of every anti-Indian-whisky-selling man in the district.

We have thus far had a very cold and dry season, at least two weeks behind the previous one. CASSIAR.

Mails for San Francisco.

It is not generally known, nor have we seen it advertised, that there is now a daily mail overland to and from San Francisco by the overland route, and that letters and papers are delivered in about sixty hours. This is a great improvement on the weekly service by direct steamer, which we have hitherto had.

The Mount Shasta Route.

Mr. P. B. Whitney, representing the general freight and passenger department of the Oregon and California Railway was in the city on Saturday. He reports travel as largely on the increase over this line, which is becoming a very popular route with the traveling public. The "gap" will be completed in a few weeks. Mr. Whitney left for Portland this morning.

Harrison Hot Springs.

Mrs. and Miss Watkins, of this city, have returned from Harrison Hot Springs after a visit of five weeks, much benefitted in health and thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of the waters. Both ladies will revisit this health resort in the course of a few days and remain for another period of four or six weeks. No stronger testimony of the efficacy of the waters can be given than a second visit in one season by guests who are in quest of health and recreation.

Catarrah, Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on receipt of stamp, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 King street West, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Standard. *

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember! No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Regularly five cents.
